

THE COLLEGIATE NETWORK Membership Application

The Collegiate Network is a membership-based organization that provides technical and financial assistance to independent publications on college campuses across the country. You must be a member in order to be eligible to apply for CN operating grants or to participate in CN-sponsored events such as the annual Editors Conference.

The CN has a rolling admissions process for membership, so feel free to apply at any time by filling out this form and submitting it along with a printed copy of your publication to: Collegiate Network, 3901 Centerville Road, Wilmington, DE 19807. After we have evaluated your publication, we will contact you with a decision.

Additional Questions

1. Please provide information on your publication's history.
2. What is the basic mission or purpose of your publication? How will it contribute to the free exchange of ideas and elevated discourse on your campus?
3. Why do you want to be a part of the Collegiate Network?
(Please note: If admitted, you will be required to send us six copies of every issue you publish, send two representatives to the annual Editors Conference in November, stay in regular contact, and alert us to any major successes or difficulties you may be facing.)
4. The Collegiate Network is a program of the Intercollegiate Studies Institute (ISI), an organization which seeks to “inspire college students to discover and embrace the principles and virtues that make America free and prosperous.” How does your publication align with this mission?
